

Service with Integrity and Commitment

With GMS, you'll get absolute reliability, quick and intelligent service, and the confidence that your home or business is being monitored around the clock, every day.

How Does Alarm Monitoring Work?

Alarm monitoring companies (Central Stations) receive electronic signals when detection devices are triggered.

Within seconds, your account information containing your specific instructions is displayed on our operators' screens, allowing us to notify whomever you have designated.

What Services Are Provided?

GMS provides alarm monitoring for residential and commercial subscribers through an independent professional alarm dealer. Emergencies such as burglary, panic or hold-up, fire, medical and even environmental conditions can be monitored. Your security professional can program your system to provide power failure and low battery supervision, and even report when your alarm system was armed or disarmed and by whom. Please consult with your alarm dealer for your individual requirements.

Who Is GMS?

GMS (General Monitoring Services, Inc.) has been providing alarm monitoring services since 1987.

We pride ourselves on our customer service. You can count on us to protect your family and/or your business from fire, theft, and vandalism.

GMS is listed by Underwriters Laboratories (UL).

What UL Certification Means To You

A UL certification assures customers, their insurance firms and their local emergency service agencies that the Central Station provides the highest quality and most reliable burglar and fire alarm service available to residential and commercial clients.

UL requirements cover building structure, receiving and monitoring equipment, staffing issues and ongoing service.

GMS exceeds Underwriters Laboratories' stringent requirements, so you are assured of:

- High standards and professionalism
- Prompt, personalized service
- Redundant computer systems, power supplies, and alarm receiving equipment (to ensure continuous, uninterrupted monitoring)
- State-of-the-art telecommunications system

Do You Need Alarm Monitoring?

It depends.

Can you rely on someone hearing your alarm system when it sounds? Can you rely on that someone to notify you, any time of the day or night? Are you sure they'll follow through and call 911 in your behalf?

Our trained operators are standing by, ready to take action when your alarm system gets triggered. We'll immediately evaluate the signal, and notify the proper authorities according to your instructions.

Do you need alarm monitoring? Think of it this way: if you need an alarm system, you need alarm monitoring.
