Dear JD Edwards User:

We can help you get a better bottom line profit in 2004.

How can we make a claim like that in these uncertain times? Because our consultants have done it before, for many companies. As a JD Edwards Service Partner, we have the experience and expertise to get the job done.

We can help your firm:

- improve inventory management,
- create better forecasts,
- implement JDE advanced modules,
- manage costs,
- increase productivity and
- boost bottom line profit.

How do we do it?

- By improving the integration of your software and systems.
- By consolidating your ERP systems.
- By improving your financial systems.
- By improving your processes.

In every case, we take the time to see the issues from your point of view, and respond with proven solutions that deliver competitive advantage.

To get you the best possible results for 2004, we need to get started right away. Call Leslie Huffman at (949) 633-1900 to arrange a free, no obligation initial consultation.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Leslie Huffman'.

Leslie Huffman
Account Executive
